

Meat Hygiene Enforcement Report

Supplement: Hygiene Assessment System (HAS) scores

Important information

- The Health Mark is the key control on fresh meat. It must be applied to all meat sold for human consumption in the UK. The Health Mark indicates that the meat has been produced under veterinary supervision according to statutory hygiene standards and has been declared fit for human consumption.
- HAS scores are a general guide to the long term hygiene performance of meat plants. They do not tell you whether an individual piece of meat is fit to eat - that is what the Health Mark does.
- There is no fixed acceptable, or unacceptable, HAS score. Plants which consistently comply with statutory requirements and use best practice will tend to score more highly than those simply complying with the minimum statutory requirements. The HAS score must be considered in the light of other information about the structure and operation of the premises.

Publication

This Supplement contains Hygiene Assessment System (HAS) scores for licensed slaughterhouses and cutting plants throughout the United Kingdom. Plants are in alphabetical order of their trading name and the licence number is also given. Individual plants are listed by type of premises (full/low throughput red meat slaughterhouses, full/low throughput poultry meat slaughterhouses, full/low throughput co-located cutting plants, and full/low throughput stand-alone cutting plants) and location (England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland).

Over Thirty Month Slaughter Scheme plants (which do not produce meat for human consumption), farmed or wild game facilities, are not given a HAS score, and so are not included.

Scores for full throughput premises, and monthly scored low-throughput premises, will normally be shown as a three month rolling average. However, sometimes scores for each of the three months will not be available, for instance when a plant is temporarily closed. If scores for only two months are available, a two-month average will be published. If only one month's score is available, that will be published. For example, for those low throughput premises which are scored once every three months, the most recent HAS score will be published. If no scores are available, the entry against the plant's name will read "no score" and a reason indicated in the column headed "Note".

Errors

If you believe that your published score is not correct, contact the MHS Operations Department in York on 01904 455 078. The MHS will check and confirm the correct score in writing. If your premises are in Northern Ireland, contact DARD's Food Policy Division in Belfast on 01232 524 879.

"Note" column

a Plants not operational

Plant ceased operation, license in process of being revoked or surrendered.

Plant in administrative receivership, not operating.

Plant not operating during the months covered by this report or seasonal.

Plant closed for refurbishment.

Plant licensed for specific operation but never undertaken.

b New Plants

Plant changed ownership, not yet trading.

Newly licensed premises, not yet operational.

Existing license extended to include other operations but not yet operational.

c No HAS score available

MHS inspection staff access restricted.

Not producing for human consumption and not OTMS.

Plant recently changed from low, to full throughput.

HAS score not available due to operational reasons.

d Change of Ownership

e HAS Review in Progress

Scores under review are not included in the published average until the review procedure has been completed

What is HAS?

HAS is a risk-based method of assessing hygiene standards at licensed slaughterhouses and cutting plants. The Official Veterinary Surgeon (OVS), based at the meat plant, looks at various hygiene aspects of a plant's structure, equipment and operation. The OVS awards each aspect a mark according to a published set of guidance notes from which an overall score of between 0 and 100 points is calculated.

Why is HAS used?

HAS scores are not required by law. However, meat plants have to be assessed under the hygiene Regulations to make sure they are operating satisfactorily. HAS is one of the tools that is used for this task. It is a structured approach which helps ensure that the same standard of assessment is applied at every plant.

Other countries do not have HAS or equivalent assessment systems in their meat plants.

Best Practice

Meat plants that comply satisfactorily with all statutory hygiene requirements would score at least 70 points. Some processing methods achieve hygiene standards more effectively and consistently than others and the best available methods are known as "best practice". As points for "best practice" are additional to those for satisfactory compliance with statutory requirements, the highest HAS scores are reserved for operations which use "best practice", achieve high hygiene standards and have written policies and procedures.

Hygiene failures

HAS measures general hygiene standards at meat plants and HAS scores are primarily considered in the context of long-term hygiene performance. If problems occur at meat plants in the short term, the hygiene Regulations give inspectors powers to take enforcement action so that things are put right. Hygiene failures will attract enforcement action, regardless of the HAS score. Further details on enforcement action are published in the Meat Hygiene Enforcement Report.

Fairness and consistency

All assessment methods have an element of subjectivity when individual judgement is involved. A number of measures have been taken to ensure that HAS is as objective as possible, and is used fairly and consistently in all meat plants. These include:

- HAS Guidance

Guidance notes set out criteria for each of the four possible markings in each aspect assessed. These notes were issued as part of the changes to HAS introduced on 1 July 1999 under the title of HAS '99.

- Training

All OVSs have been trained in the use of the HAS '99 guidance and only trained staff undertake HAS assessments.

- Review procedure

Appeals by operators against HAS scores are considered by the POVS. If plant operators are unable to accept the decision of the POVS, they may make use of the MHS formal appeals procedure.

If the issue relates to the interpretation of HAS guidance, it may be submitted to the HAS Panel.

- HAS Panel

The HAS Panel is a group of Government veterinarians, chaired by a Veterinary Adviser in the Joint Food Safety and Standards Group which advises on the interpretation of the HAS guidance. The HAS Panel will refer significant issues to the HAS Guidance Working Group, which includes meat industry representatives.

- External audit

Audits of MHS compliance with their instructions, including those relating to HAS scoring, are carried out by the Veterinary Public Health Unit (VPHU) of the Joint Food Safety and Standards Group in England and the State Veterinary Service in Scotland and Wales. Further details and results are published in the Meat Hygiene Enforcement Report and annual report of the VPHU.
